If you come across a broken window, lock, or another urgent room situation such as a malfunctioning elevator, it is important to contact your house fellow or hall desk immediately. Non-emergency repairs such as burst water supply connections, window screens that need to be replaced, or broken furniture that needs to be fixed (that is otherwise not causing a hazard), or problems with insects in rooms, are requested through an online system by submitting a MARS request. Go to mars.housing.wisc.edu to submit a request. It is important to note that you do not submit MARS request for problems with ResNet.

SAFETY REQUIREMENTS
• Two or more people are required to lift and stack furniture components. Keep your back straight and bend your knees. Lift with your legs and arms, not with your back.

At University Housing, we make energy conservation a priority. In Bradley Hall, hot water is pumped through a fin-type baseboard convector in each room. There is an opening at the bottom and top of the convector. The convector has a damper control knob on the front which must be in the open position (turn knob to the left) so that the air can freely pass. Always check to make sure belongings such as furniture, bedding, and carpet are not pushed up against the convector openings. A free flow of air must be maintained around the heating unit in order to heat your room.

When leaving your room for the day, please close windows in order to help conserve energy. It is important to keep your windows closed during unusually cold or warm periods to conserve energy and maintain comfort for yourself and other residents.
