Collections Policy
Housing summer term payment is due according to the Summer Term billing schedule. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that payment is received on or before the due date. University Housing will not be responsible for late payments caused by a delay in US Mail or campus mail delivery. Financial Aid money is not forwarded directly to University Housing; it is the responsibility of the student to ensure that remittance of any payment due is made.

A hold will be placed on the academic records of students who are delinquent in their housing payments. A “hold” means that a student cannot receive a transcript or register for the next semester’s classes. University Housing will release a hold only when full payment is received for the unpaid balance. Students who remain delinquent place their current and future housing contracts at risk.
University Housing processes all checks on the date they are received; checks will not be held for any period of time. Be prepared for any postdated check remitted to University Housing to clear your bank earlier than you expected. A $20.00 fee is assessed to residents (as mandated by the State Treasurers Office) for any check returned to Housing unpaid by the bank. In addition, a resident’s check writing privileges will be suspended and a hold placed on their academic records until the payment for the returned check has been resolved.

No two-party checks (checks payable to anyone other than University Housing) or starter checks (temporary checks banks issue for new accounts that do not contain preprinted address or check number information) will be accepted. If you anticipate a problem with meeting a contract/payment deadline, please contact the Assignment Office at 608-262-2522.

Final Considerations
Registration/Admissions
Please notify the Assignment Office promptly if your plans to attend UW-Madison change. Withdrawal or denial of admission without a written request to notify this office does not constitute cancellation of the contract; nor does the housing contract imply admission to the University.

Cancellation Request
You can be released from your contract if you decide not to attend UW-Madison and you provide written notice of your intent to cancel. Release from a summer term contract will result in a forfeiture of $300.00. Please read the contract cancellation policy outlined in Sections 12, 13, and 14 of the housing contract.

Moving In
General information describing move-in procedures and how to locate your residence hall will be available at least one week prior to your arrival in the My UW Housing portal.
