EXECUTIVE SUMMARY REPORT
UNIVERSITY HOUSES RENOVATION
9/26/14

What’s New?
The demolition and reconstruction phases are in full swing. New piping can be seen in the Building 5 basement and the worn down concrete columns from buildings 9 and 21 have been removed with temporary wood frames in their place. Site work has been making large strides as most of the asphalt and curbs in certain locations have been removed and will be repaved in the near future.

The Past Two Weeks
• Closet shelving has been removed for the HVAC chases
• H&H has piped the walls in Zone 1
• Zone 4 and 5 have been piped for exterior water
• Tile and Tubs have been removed in Zone 2

Coming Up in the Next Two Weeks
• Sidewalks will be installed
• Hangers for piping will be installed in Zone 1
• New electrical equipment will be installed in Zone 1

Did you know? Bucky Badger, the UW-Madison mascot, has a longstanding history and tradition. The cartoon version of Bucky with a red and white sweater dates back to 1940 when a professional illustrator named Art Evans brought Bucky to life on paper for the first time. Nine years later, a student at a homecoming game wore a paper mâché Badger head to the homecoming game and the famous badger was born.
